Mission to Catholics and Non-Catholics in Henry County.

Pastor and Missioner Pleased With Reception They Secured.

Question Box Was Feature in Both the Towns Visited.

URGED TO COME AGAIN SOON

The double mission given by the Rev. Father Henry Miller, an eloquent member of the Passionist order, in Henry county, Kentucky, will be ever memorable in the history of the Eminence parish. It was most successful, both at Frankfort and at Eminence. The missionary, the pastor and the people, Catholics and non-Catholics, hope that it will not be long before another effort is made to expound the doctrines of the Catholic church to the people of Henry county.

The Rev. Father Edward W. Boes, pastor of the church at Pewee Valley, has Henry county as part of his mission field, and for weeks had been working zealously for the coming of the Passionist orator. On September 28, 29 and 30 the lectures were given at Frankfort, fourteen miles from Eminence. As there is no Catholic church at Frankfort the lectures were given in Woodmen's Hall. The attendance was only fair on the first night. Many of the natives had never seen, much less heard, a Catholic priest. What they knew of the Catholic church, its teachings and its priests, had been gleaned from non-Catholic ministers and non-Catholic books.

Father Miller won all hearts. The first night. The following night the attendance was almost doubled, and on the third night the hall was crowded to suffocation. All listened with rapt attention. No doubt his appeal, especially to those who claim no religion, probably set them all thinking about the affairs of salvation. Neither is there doubt that these good people will pause hereafter before they give credence to the many falsehoods and lies which heaped upon the Catholic church by her enemies.

At the close of the exercises at Frankfort the Rev. Fathers Boes and Miller drove to Eminence to begin the mission there. As it was the first Friday of the month all the Catholics took advantage of the opportunity to receive holy communion at one of the two masses. At 9 o'clock the missionary priest spoke to the Catholics. In the evening he addressed the non-Catholics. His subject was "Purgatory." On Saturday morning Father Miller again addressed the Catholics and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock he spoke to a very representative audience of non-Catholics of Eminence and surrounding county. His subject was "The Catholic and Protestant Bible Compared."

On Sunday morning the Rev. Father E. W. Boes celebrated high mass at 10:30 o'clock. The Rev. Father Miller was deacon and one of the Franciscans subdeacon. The altars and sanctuary were decorated with choice cut flowers, ferns and palms. A double quartette from the Concordia Singing Society of Louisville sang the music of the mass, one of the greatest efforts of Van Bree, the composer. At the close of the mass the Rev. Father Miller gave an eloquent explanation of the devotion of Catholics to the Blessed Virgin. The church was filled to overflowing with non-Catholics. The mission closed Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock with a lecture on "The Necessity of Baptism." The services at Eminence each night were closed with benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

At Frankfort and also at Eminence the question box was one of the main features of interest to non-Catholics. It was well patronized and the questions asked showed earnestness and a desire for truth. All the audience declared that they had been instructed by the answers given by the missionary. Rev. Father Boes was asked what he thought of the general results. He replied: "Taken all in all, the double mission was a most remarkable success. On all sides the lectures and services were praised. One non-Catholic said that he had lived many years in Eminence, but did not know that the Catholic church taught such beautiful doctrines, nor that its services were so impressive. Many others have asked to have the mission repeated in the near future. Another said: 'Your mission has done much good in our community. You can say that Father Boes and the Catholics of Eminence wish to thank their non-Catholic friends for lending flowers used in the sanctuary to thank the Rev. Father Henry Miller for his instructive sermons, and to thank the Concordia Singing Society for its aid in making our services impressive.'"

LAWYER FOR GOVERNOR.

Mayor Daniel W. Lawler, St. Paul, is the certain successor of the late John A. Johnson as Democratic Governor of Minnesota, according to a prominent politician of St. Paul, who gave out a recent interview to that effect. "The Democrats of Minnesota realize that Mayor Lawler is the only Democrat who can carry the gubernatorial plum of the strong Republican State of Minnesota," he said. "He has won the hearts of all the people of the State by his efficient, business like and courageous administration as Mayor of the Capital, and it is believed he can duplicate John A. Johnson's wonderful runs." Mayor Lawler is an author, lecturer and book publisher and a prominent Catholic.

HIGHER RANK

May Be Bestowed Upon the Present Apostolic Delegate.

There are persistent rumors, though not of ecclesiastical origin, that Monsignor Diomedeo Falconio, the Papal Delegate to Washington, will be raised to the dignity of Cardinal at the consistory to be held in January. If he becomes a Cardinal he will follow in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessors, Monsignors Satolli and Martinelli. As the Pope's personal representative in the United States Monsignor Falconio has exercised a jurisdiction wider than that of any Apostolic Delegate, and the qualities of high diplomacy, which are indispensable in Washington in the administration of the Delegate's office, seem to be regarded by the Vatican as ample qualification for the discharge of still more important functions in the church. Not yet seventy years of age, a man of ripe scholarship and profound knowledge of church diplomacy, Monsignor Falconio, once in Rome, would be eligible to the headship of the Catholic church, which he has served all his life in the humblest as well as in the most distinguished stations.

When he succeeded Martinelli at Washington eight years ago Monsignor Falconio was welcomed as an American citizen, for although he was born and educated in Italy he came to America as a young man and much of his work was done on this side of the ocean, as an educator at the College of St. Bonaventure at Albany, as a priest in the Italian colony of New York and among the wild peoples of the Newfoundland coast. A Franciscan, the present Apostolic Delegate was at the absolute command of the heads of his order—that ancient order of barefooted friars pledged to chastity, poverty and obedience and he never hesitated to answer the word of command.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE Held Big Business Meeting and Outlined Many Plans.

The Central Committee of the C. K. of A. held an unusually well attended meeting on Friday night of last week. President John Schaldach occupied the chair. Both military companies and a majority of the branches were well represented. Eugene McCarthy was chosen Secretary for the evening. Henry Bosquet reported that his committee was actively at work on the proposed directory and expected to complete it before the close of the year. He said that he and other members of his committee would visit those branches that have not yet reported and urge them to prompt action.

William T. Meehan reported that the degree team was ready to confer the third degree. It was the consensus of opinion that a big initiation be held on the second Sunday in December. Messrs. Charles Hill and Henry Bosquet were appointed a committee to make necessary arrangements. Chairman Harry Veeneman announced the plan arranged by his hustling committee to visit the various branches.

Patrick Holley called attention to the promptness with which policies are now paid, the beneficiaries receive their insurance in from five to seven days. Attorney Newton G. Rogers addressed the committee upon his proposition to consolidate all the branches with a central office and headquarters. Action on the matter was indefinitely postponed. Branch 6 reported that it had two additions to its ranks. Branch 25 declared that it had candidates in prospect. Branches 32 and 42 also announced prospective additions. Branch 54, of Jeffersonville, has a big increase in prospect between now and January 1.

Henry Bosquet, on behalf of the congregation, invited all the members of the committee to attend the diamond jubilee services at St. Mary's church on the following Sunday. The invitation was accepted with thanks and the committee decided to attend in a body.

BEQUESTS FROM UNCLE.

Word has been received in New Albany that Misses Mary and Anna and John O'Neill, all of East Eleventh street, have been bequeathed nearly $1,000 each by their uncle, William Boyle, who died recently at Stockton, California. Three nieces and a nephew in Ireland will receive similar bequests.

VERY WORTHY CHARITY.

The Knights of Columbus of Hudson, Passaic and Berker counties, New Jersey, gave a charity ball Monday night in Jersey City. The Right Rev. Bishops McFaul and O'Connor and Gov. Fort were among the prominent guests. The fund that accrued will be used in establishing scholarships in Catholic colleges for poor boys.

REJOICING.

Members of Division 3 Entertained Visitors on Silver Jubilee.

Addresses, Music, Dancing and a Feast for the Inner Man.

Two Hundred Sons and Daughters of Erin Entertained by Hibernians.

ITS TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Throughout the length and breadth of the land the anniversary of the landing of Columbus on American soil was celebrated last Tuesday. There were many larger celebrations, but none more home-like and enjoyable than that given in Louisville under the auspices of Division 3, A. O. H. To the members of that division it meant not only a landing day, but it was likewise the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of Division 3, and while the silver jubilee of the division was pushed to the forefront, at no time did these grateful Irish-Americans lose sight of the fact that they were celebrating what ought to be a great religious and national holiday. When President P. T. Sullivan recited the Our Father and Hail Mary at the opening of the supper there was none around the board who did not offer up thanks that he lived in land of liberty, a land made possible by the daring and indefatigable Catholic spirit of Christopher Columbus.

More than 200 sons and daughters of Erin assembled at Falls City Hall on invitation of Division 3. President Patrick T. Sullivan and a score of his colleagues were on hand to receive and make their guests feel at home. Prof. Dennis Collins' orchestra rendered spirited music that kept all in the best of humor, and shortly after 8 o'clock the festivities opened. Seated on the stage were Michael Sheehan, the first President of Division 3; Patrick T. Sullivan, the incumbent President; State President George J. Butler, County President Patrick J. Welch, Treasurer Dan Dougherty, D. J. Coleman and Martin Sheehan, the incumbent Vice President. D. J. Coleman was the first to speak. He welcomed all in the name of Division 3, and expressed the hope that all would enjoy a pleasant evening. He closed by introducing President P. T. Sullivan.

Mr. Sullivan ought to be styled the historian of Division 3 as well as its President. He was one of the charter members of the division and in his address gave an epitome of the work accomplished by that body from October 12, 1884, to the present time. More than that, he told of the founding of the order in Ireland in the eighteenth century and how it was transplanted to the United States in 1847; how it grew and flourished in this country. He told also of the establishment of the first division established in Kentucky at Covington; how a little later Divisions 1 and 2 were established in Louisville. Feelingly he spoke of the late John M. Hennessy, who was County President in 1884, and who presided at the founding of Division 3, and of the late James Rogers, of Division 1, and the late John J. Barrett, of Division 2, who assisted at the birth of Division 3. Finally he was transplanted to the work performed by the members of the division, and showed how many members old and young had risen to places of prominence in commercial and professional affairs. All, he said, were proud of their faith and nationality.

State President George J. Butler was the second speaker. He is a member of Division 3 and, like President Sullivan, a charter member and well qualified to speak for his organization. He said he was gratified at the growth of Division 3, but expressed regret that the order was not as large in proportion as in the Eastern and Central States. County President Welch was next introduced. He is likewise a member of Division 3. Mr. Welch was very happy in his remarks and expressed his appreciation of the honor of being County President. He said he hoped to see the time when there would be ten or twelve divisions of the order in this city. At the close of his address Miss Mary Corcoran sang "The Wild Irish Rose" in excellent style. Miss Julia Kelly, treasurer of the committee at home, presided at the piano. She received great applause but failed to respond to an encore.

An Irish breakdown by Miss Margaret Purcell and Martin Sheehan evoked enthusiastic applause. Miss Rose Sweney, who presided at the Ladies' Auxiliary, was introduced, and gracefully and happily expressed the wish that Division 3 could hold its twenty-fifth anniversary annually. Miss Fanny Kennedy, County President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, congratulated Division 3 on attaining its twenty-fifth birthday and expressed the wish that all would live to celebrate its golden jubilee. Miss Elizabeth King, State Treasurer of the Ladies' Auxiliary, made a similar felicitous address. One of the hits of the programme was an Irish harp by John Mulvey. Mr. Mulvey is an artistic Irish dancer and his fancy steps were a revelation to the young Irish-Americans.

Division 3 did not stop with addresses, music and Irish dances. Then the set programme was concluded by the guests joined the division, county and State officers in a grand march to the hall on the floor above, where supper had been prepared, and an elegant supper it was. The tables were arranged in quadrangular form with President Sullivan at the head. On his right James T. Coleman, and on his left were State President and Mrs. Butler and County President and Mrs. Welch. It is not necessary to dilate on the menu. Suffice it to say that it was prepared under the supervision of D. J. Coleman, whose long experience as a hotel chef makes him a singularly non at Hibernian feasts. Everything was in taste and there was an abundance of everything. John M. Mulloy, a member of Division 1, not only furnished but made the delicious coffee, and as the night was chilly the beverage was an most welcome. There were no ceremonies at the banquet board save the opening prayers by President Sullivan. After that it was like a family reunion dinner party.

While the elders were dining the younger folks were tripping through waltzes and two-steps on the floor below. In due time they were called to the banquet board and then returned to dance until midnight. For the thirty men Division 3 had provided a liquid emporium, where all quenched their thirst at will, with James T. Coleman at the head. That each individual got what he wanted. Other members of Division 3 who assisted in serving the guests at supper, and in the cafe were John Hession, Thomas Quinn, Lawrence Mackey, Thomas Stevens, Dan Dougherty, Thomas Kennedy and Thomas Mulvey. J. Coleman watched over all and deserves not only the thanks of the division but of all the guests.

STOLE AWAY.

Popular Young People Wed Quietly and Leave Town.

When Joe Torpey, the L. and N. yardmaster, called the roll of switchmen at noon Monday Andrew J. Meagher was missing. "Called Meagher! Andy Meagher!" he called louder, but in vain. "He never did this before," said Joe. Mr. Torpey woke up next day when he read in the papers that a marriage license had been granted to Miss Margaret Gardner and Andrew J. Meagher. Now Mr. Torpey and the rest of the yard crews are anxious to surprise "Smooth Andy," as they call him, when he returns.

Miss Gardner and Mr. Meagher were married at 12:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at Sacred Heart church. The Rev. Father Patrick Walsh performed the ceremony. The attendants were Miss Fanny Sullivan and Mr. Meagher. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Meagher left for Buffalo, Niagara Falls, New York City and other points to be gone two weeks. Their wedding was a complete surprise to all their friends. The bride is one of the charming daughters of former Councilman James Gardner. Both young people have the best wishes of many friends for a long and happy journey over matrimonial seas.

RECENT DEATHS.

The remains of Patrick Leahy, who died in Chicago last week, were brought to Jeffersonville, where he lived years ago, and were buried from St. Augustine's church on Saturday. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary L. Donohue, a resident of Louisville. The deceased was seventy-seven years old and a native of Ireland.

The funeral of Patrick Cummins, who died at the residence of his nephew, James P. Cummins, 707 East Breckinridge street, took place from St. Paul's church on Saturday morning. The deceased was a native of Ireland and was seventy-eight years old. Mr. Cummins was respected by all who knew him. For years he conducted a deli at 1009 Holmwood, and succeeded in business there by his son, Arthur Cummins.

John G. Liebert, a contracting painter, died at his home, 2048 Frankfort avenue, early Monday morning. He had suffered from Bright's disease for six months and his death was not unexpected. His funeral took place from the Church of St. Francis of Rome on Wednesday morning. He is survived by his widow, his daughter, Miss Rosa Liebert; two sons, Leo and William Liebert, and a sister, Mrs. Rosa Boldt. The deceased was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Edward White, one of the oldest and most highly respected business men in Louisville, died at his home, 1226 South Third street, early Monday morning. The deceased was eighty-four years old, and for many years was a member of the wholesale tobacco firm of White, Dunkerson & Co. Only a few years ago he retired from active business. He is survived by his wife and one brother, David White. The funeral took place from St. Louis Bertrand's church on Wednesday morning.

Dennis E. Kelly, for many years the Chief Traveling Engineer for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, died at his home, 955 Twelfth street, on Friday morning of last week. Mr. Kelly had been in ill health for several weeks and his death was not unexpected. He is survived by his wife and several children. The deceased was for more than thirty years an engineer for the L. and N. and enjoyed the confidence of his colleagues and superiors. The funeral took place from St. Louis Bertrand's church on Sunday afternoon.

FIGURES

Indicate That Democrats Will Score Victory in November.

Politicians Are Dividing Time Between Hustings and Courts.

Outrageous Arrest of Maj. Colston Forced Judge to Think.

IS UP TO THE VOTERS NOW

Men do not always vote as they register, but this year there are many indications that the Democrats, who have a plurality over the Republicans, will have a majority when the polls close on November 2. The official registration figures for Louisville were made public on Thursday. They show a total of 54,907 registered voters, more than 3,000 increase over last year. They show, too, that 24,731 registered as Democrats, while 19,145 registered as Republicans and 10,131 declined to state their party affiliation.

Compare these figures with those of last year and you will find that the Democrats have gained in registration 981, the Republicans 644 and the independent voters 1,084, showing that the increase in the independent ranks is greater than in the Democratic or Republican parties. The figures also show that the increase in Republican registration was mainly through the negroes. While the Republicans gained nearly 2,000 negro votes, they lost more than 600 whites.

Now say that of the 24,731 Democrats registered that 2,000 are disaffected. Give the Republicans every one of the 19,145 registered voters to start with, and then concede that the candidates on independent tickets will receive between them 4,500 ballots. Divide the remaining independent votes, 7,500 equally between the Democrats and Republicans and they show 36,481 Democrats as against 28,905 Republicans, or a Democratic plurality of nearly 3,600 votes. So much for registration figures.

This has been a busy if not an eventful week in local political circles. Not only are the speakers of the rival parties busy on the hustings, but the courts are even full of politics. The purging of the registration list is occupying the County Court; Judge O'Doherty has been busy on George D. Todd's application for an injunction to keep Grinstead's name off the ballot on grounds of his alleged ineligibility, and that mighty Daniel in judgment, the walking encyclopedia of legal lore and authority on the American Grocery Company, Solomon J. Wheeler McGee, has been busy revolving in his mind the intricacies of the Colston-Tipton imbroglio.

Judge McGee will hand down his decision this morning. He has had the case under submission since Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. Colston is a gentleman. Tipton's picture adorns the rogue's gallery. Tipton has been arrested for malicious and defamatory libel on grounds of his alleged ineligibility, and that mighty Daniel in judgment, the walking encyclopedia of legal lore and authority on the American Grocery Company, Solomon J. Wheeler McGee, has been busy revolving in his mind the intricacies of the Colston-Tipton imbroglio.

It is a pity that all the voters of Louisville were not able to attend the sessions of the Police Court on Tuesday and Wednesday to hear the trial of Major William A. Colston, who was arrested by Police Officer McGee on the charge of obstructing registration. At the opening of the case the charge was amended to disorderly conduct. Gentlemen like Col. Henry L. Stone, Col. C. C. Mengel, Gen. John B. Castleman, A. S. Brandeis and Attorney Ben Washer were on hand to testify to the good reputation and gentlemanly character of Major Colston.

The chief instrument of the Republican party was John Tipton, a scion of the notorious Tipton family, which has so often figured in the Police Court, and John is not the least offender. The attorneys for Major Colston attempted to prove that Tipton had been appointed on the police force, but that Col. Haager, familiar with his reputation, would have none of him. The material bearing on the case, Judge McGee's decision is awaited with compound interest by those who remember his remarkable oration on Robert Foster and "Tiny Tim."

By the way, has anyone noticed any of Louisville's political preachers denouncing the administration for the arrest of Colston and the appointment of Tipton as a guard at the Workhouse? If Tipton had been a Democrat and Colston a Republican these pulpit politicians would have pounded their desks to smithereens.

The awful frost that fell upon Mayor Grinstead and Marshall Bullitt at the L. and N. shops this week shows that the white workingmen of Louisville, independent of party politics, will not stand for an administration that upholds negro domination.

BISHOPS CONFERRED.

The eight suffragan Bishops of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati met at the residence of Archbishop Harry A. Moeller on Wednesday to nominate three candidates to succeed the late Bishop McCloskey. Those who attended the conference were Bishop Hartley, of Columbus; Bishop Maes, of Covington; Bishop Farrelly, of Cleveland; Bishop Foley, of Detroit; Bishop Richter, of Grand Rapids; Bishop Alerding, of St. Wayne; Bishop Chataud, of Indianapolis; and Bishop Byrne, of Nashville. The names suggested by the Bishops will not be made public officially until they have been passed upon in Rome.

FITTING HONOR

Has Been Bestowed Upon Worthy Franciscan Priest.

There is general rejoicing in St. Anthony's parish over the appointment of the Rev. Father Leo Greulich as Provincial of the Order of Minor Conventuals to succeed Father Louis Miller, who died at Syracuse on September 10. The appointment of Father Leo was made by the Rev. Father Dominic Reuter, head of the order and stationed in Rome. The appointment of Father Leo will make his ordination May, when a general chapter will be held. It is probable that Father Leo will be formally elected Provincial at that time.

From now until May Father Leo will make his headquarters in Louisville, but if he becomes head of the order by election of the chapter in May he will be compelled to make his headquarters in Syracuse, where the Franciscans have their college of St. Francis and mother house of the novitiate of the Order of Minor Conventuals.

Father Leo was born in Baden, Germany, fifty years ago, and received his classical education in the old country. When he was twenty years old he came to America with his parents and pursued his studies in Franciscan colleges and seminaries until his ordination as priest, three years ago. Soon after his ordination Father Leo was sent to Louisville as assistant priest at St. Anthony's. After some time spent here he was transferred to New Jersey and then back to Louisville to become pastor of St. Peter's. Upon the elevation of Father Miller to head of the order, Father Leo succeeded him as pastor of St. Anthony's. Since then his record as a church and school builder is well known.

Father Leo is a man of broad mind, and though a native of Germany is thoroughly American and as proud of Kentucky as one of the manor born. Better still he loves baseball and encourages his young folks to indulge in all healthy athletic sports.

TIMELY WARNING.

Bishop McFaul Calls Attention to Dangers of the Youth.

The Right Rev. James A. McFaul, Bishop of Trenton, N. J., in his latest pastoral urges his flock to contribute more generously than ever to the Catholic University at Washington, and in so doing makes an appeal for Catholic parents and guardians to send their children and wards to Catholic colleges and academies. Bishop McFaul says in part:

"Let me draw the attention of the clergy and the laity to the danger of patronizing non-Catholic institutions of learning. Every one knows that it has been repeatedly stated on the best authority that certain professors in our great secular universities deliver lectures calculated to subvert Christian faith and Christian morality. They assert that there is no God, at least as men have conceived of him; that we are divinely given ten commandments; no church; and as for the Bible, one must be freed from all the slavery to the sacred myths which it contains.

"It is needless to say that the Christianity which these alleged scientific gentlemen attack is not Christianity as expounded by the Catholic church. They build up a straw religion of their own and then take delight in knocking it down. I must earnestly exhort all Catholics, especially those under my charge, to patronize Catholic schools, to support them generously and if God has blessed them with sufficient means, to offer large donations that their usefulness may be extended and all those departments established which will eliminate every excuse for our young men and women to seek an education where the atmosphere is such that it may prove detrimental to their temporal and spiritual interests."

INSTALLED IN NEW HOME.

The new home in Peoria presented to Archbishop Spalding by the priests of his diocese has been completed and furnished. The Archbishop took possession yesterday.

BRIEF SESSION.

Division 4, A. O. H., met in regular session Monday night, but the sudden cold snap and accompanying rain seemed to put a damper on the attendance. President John H. Hennessy occupied the chair. John Langan, who had been ill, was reportedly fully recovered. John Healy was reported quite ill. William Callaghan, Fred Mooney and Thomas McHugh reported appropriate resolutions on the death of Mrs. Michael Mitchell. The division offered prayers for the repose of her soul. Treasurer Harry Brady submitted his report, showing that the division was in good shape numerically and financially.

SHAKING.

Once Stable Government of Great Britain Suffers Dire Distress.

Interneine Strife Adds to the Shadows of External Enemies.

The Dissolution of Parliament Is Imminent Say the Wiseacres.

TESTS IRISH REPRESENTATIVES

Sons of Erin all over the world are reciting either in public or private this week, "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity." England is in dire straits, and her Government, once declared to be the best balanced and most stable in the world, is in great distress. Shadows of war without are heightened by the terrors of interneine strife. As a result Parliament took a recess this week and will meet again Monday night. While nothing eventful is expected in the House of Commons, the agitation will continue there. The death of a London member has necessitated the election of his successor, and a three-cornered fight is in progress. While the Liberals expect to elect a successor to the dead man, the Radicals want to put in one of theirs. London opposes the budget, and the Socialists believe they can squeeze a man in between the other two. If the election is lost to the Liberals by a big majority the Lords may be encouraged to make a more bitter fight on the budget.

One of the most curious results of the whole struggle and the startling turn of affairs is the rushing to the front of the Irish question. The first cause of this sudden transformation of the scene and the shifting of the interest was the action of the House of Lords in revisiting the Irish land bill. Even Englishmen were shocked by the spectacle—the serious and arduous Irish landlords mutilating, indeed killing, a measure made necessary by the blunders of very finance and the urgent needs of the poorest parts of Ireland, but the main factor in bringing Ireland to the front was the serious and arduous mission of T. P. O'Connor to America.

Mr. O'Connor declares that he can only remain two weeks in America owing to the stress of events at home. He expects to visit New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago during his brief stay. In his opinion the Irish representatives in Parliament are placed in a more difficult situation than during the months which have elapsed since the introduction of the Lloyd-George budget. One of the many open sores of Irish life is the feeling that the country is overtaxed—a feeling which was brought to a climax some fifteen years ago when a powerful commission, composed mainly of Englishmen and appointed by a Conservative government, brought in a report that the general average of $15,700,000 every year beyond the taxable capacity and her fair proportion of the financial burdens of the empire.

Some of this grievance has been removed by the $10,000,000 which has come to Ireland through old age pensions, but the grievance still exists, and it will exist so long as the present system prevails. The denial of home rule to Ireland involves among other consequences such gigantic expenditure on judges, civil service officials and, above all, on a policy which is an army of occupation and not a body of peace officers, as to make the overtaxation of Ireland inevitable.

The general feeling throughout England, Ireland and Scotland is that a disruption of the Cabinet is imminent and that the situation is how this appeal to the electors will be brought about, whether it will be the inevitable rejection of the budget by the House of Lords or, in the event of the passage of the budget, the rejection of the budget by the House of Commons. The situation is how this appeal to the electors will be brought about, whether it will be the inevitable rejection of the budget by the House of Lords or, in the event of the passage of the budget, the rejection of the budget by the House of Commons.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that the Lords will either hang up or reject the bill, and thus force the Government into immediate dissolution.

CARDINAL FALLS HEIR.

According to a cablegram from London, Cardinal Merry Val, the Papal Secretary of State, has come into the possession of valuable property left him by a Protestant relative. His grandmother was a Miss Wilson, a member of a north of Ireland family which was "orange" rather than "green" in its leanings. Miss Wilson, however, became a convert to Catholicism during the Tractarian movement, which carried Cardinals Newman and Manning to Rome; and she married Senor Zulueta, then Secretary of the Spanish Embassy in London, by whom she had a daughter, the mother of Cardinal Merry del Val. Senor Zulueta's relatives all remained faithful to their Protestant beliefs, and of recent years those of them still living have regarded the Cardinal with mingled pride and regret. Among them were two sisters of Senor Zulueta, and it is from them that the Cardinal has now inherited a large share of their wealth.

WORTHY OF EMULATION.

The celebration by Division 3, Ancient Order of Hibernians, of its twenty-fifth anniversary is one of those enjoyable affairs that is conducive to increasing the membership of the order. Division 3 may not reap the benefit for years, but its example will put other divisions in Louisville and elsewhere on the quiver to do something better, if such a thing can be possible. The members showed the true Hibernian spirit—they gloried in the achievements of their division, they dwelt with pride upon the history of their division; they did not hesitate to say they were proud of their faith and nationality. Meetings like that of Division 3 makes better Americans as well as better Hibernians. It was a gathering of the young and the old. While lauding the living President Sullivan did not fail to eulogize the dead.

Years hence when all the present members of Division 3 have gone to eternal rest, there will be another celebration, perhaps the centenary of Division 3, and the orators of the evening will not fail to recall the names of Sheehan, Sullivan, Butler, Walsh, Dougherty and Coleman. Neither will he fail to recall to his audience:

"All! All are gone, but still lives on
The fame of those who died,
And true men, like you men,
Remember them with pride."

UP TO THE PEERS.

"What will the Lords do?" that is the main question agitating the people of the British Isles in reference to the Lloyd-George budget. It carries with it another question—"What will the Lords do with the Birrell land bill?" Neither question is easy to answer, but it is clearly foreshadowed that unless the Lords adopt both the budget and the land bill the open season for Lords, Dukes and Earls will be declared.

Only a few days ago David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, spoke to an audience of 4,000 at Newcastle. He told them: "We are going to send that bill up to the House of Lords and get all the taxes or none." He added that if the Lords tore up the Constitution by interfering with the money bill they would force a revolution. Then he added: "The Lords may decree a revolution, but the people will direct it if it is begun, and issues will be raised that are now little dreamed of, the answers to which will be charged with peril for the order of things which the Lords represent." The plea of the Lords is that Lloyd-George's financial scheme is so revolutionary that the mandate of the country should be the only authority upon which to accept or reject it, and that in thus appealing to the common people and placing upon their shoulders the responsibility of accepting or rejecting the scheme, the House of Lords is really acting within its rights.

If the Lords refuse to pass the budget and if the Government is thus forced into legal and constitutional conflict with them, the veto of the Peers will be doomed. If the budget is not placed upon the statute book before the Parliament into which it was introduced is dissolved financial chaos will result, because the budget resolutions will cease to have legal effect. The entire system of revenue for the British Isles will become unbalanced.

In the face of such a contingency the Unionists are relying upon the hope that the Government will be forced to come to the rescue and by an indemnifying measure restore order out of chaos. The Government proposes to do nothing of the kind, but it does propose to lay the responsibility on the shoulders of the Unionist majority in the House of Lords and then to ask the various constituencies how they view the matter.

According to the daily press Postmaster Robert Emmet Woods and City Tax Receiver H. H. McCulloch were to deliver addresses at a flag raising under the auspices of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics at St. Matthews last Sunday. Where would Robert Emmet Woods and McCulloch have been had their forbears been proscribed by a society like the Junior Order?

Children of the "Pilgrim Fathers" are making apologies for their ancestors who burned witches in New England a century and a half ago. Less than fifty years from now Tennessee will offer apologies for Prohibitionists Dyer and Webb. Dyer says that the prohibition laws of Tennessee will be enforced if the streets of Nashville run ankle deep in blood. Webb says in "War time traitors are shot and those Tennessee officials who do not enforce the prohibition laws ought to be shot." Both seem to be suffering from chronic dementia. Our own Dr. W. P. Hunt is recuperating in a St. Louis sanitarium.

Without the slightest earmarks of authenticity the local daily papers have announced that the Bishops of this Province have recommended the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue as successor to the late Bishop McCloskey. Months may elapse before any official notice is given, but should Bishop O'Donoghue be sent to Louisville he would be welcomed as any other able man.

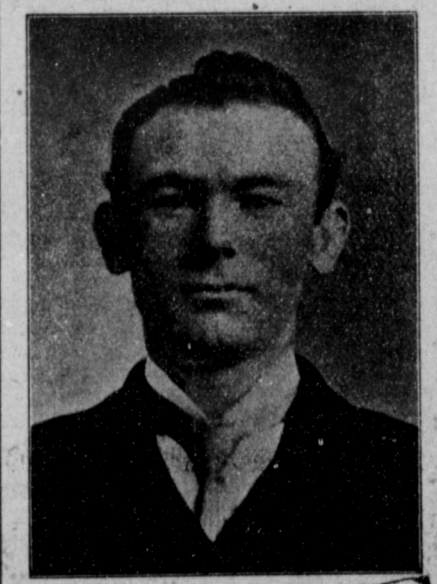

Cardinal Merry del Val, the Papal Secretary of State, was forty-four years old last Sunday. He is the youngest of the present Cardinals, but has occupied his present high position for more than seven years. His father was a Spaniard and his mother an Irishwoman.

Now that excitement over the Cook-Pearry controversy has somewhat abated the daily press is fattening on the Knox-Crane pastures. Did Crane talk too much? Is Knox really protecting American interests? Those are the questions.

RYAN RESIGNS.

Coming State Senator Quits
Job as Deputy Clerk.

Mark Ryan, for the past twelve years a very efficient deputy in the Circuit Clerk's office, has tendered his resignation to Circuit Clerk W. V.

L. Weller, to take effect on October 30. Mr. Ryan is the Democratic nominee for State Senator from the Thirty-eighth Senatorial district. He could not legally hold his present office and be State Senator, so he prefers to give up his clerkship. During the past four years Mr. Ryan has been Clerk of Judge Kirby's court and has made an excellent and painstaking official. During his tenure of office Mr. Ryan has managed to study law and has been admitted to practice at any bar in Kentucky. When he becomes State Senator he will carry with him to Frankfort a thorough working knowledge of the law, and is in every way well equipped to represent his proposed constituents.

DIAMOND JUBILEE.

The sixtieth anniversary of the founding of St. Mary's church was celebrated in grand style last Sunday, and at each service the church was thronged. The central figure of course was the Rev. B. H. Westermann, pastor of the church. In the evening the scene of jubilation was transferred from the church to the parish hall, where an elaborate musical and literary program was given. The Rev. Dr. George W. Schumann, an illustrious son of St. Mary's, now pastor of St. John's church, delivered the principal address.

ARCHBISHOP IN COLLISION.

His Grace Henry A. Moeller, Archbishop of Cincinnati, and several priests en route to Madisonville, Ohio, in an automobile last Sunday afternoon had a narrow escape from death when their auto collided with a trolley car. The motorman was struck by flying glass, but none of the Archbishop's car were bruised, although all were severely shaken. Having secured another auto the Archbishop and his party proceeded to Madisonville.

KNIGHTS INSTALL OFFICERS.

Last Sunday was a big day for the Knights of St. John at Dayton, Ohio. The various commanderies assembled at their respective meeting places and marched to Lafayette Hall, where a general installation of officers was held. Members of the Cincinnati Commandery and the Supreme officers of the order in the United States and Canada were present.

DR. LAMMERS' LECTURE.

Dr. B. J. Lammers will lecture at Trinity Council next Monday evening on typhoid fever and some of the measures now taken by physicians and health officers to avoid its spread. Dr. Lammers is an interesting talker, and the members of Trinity Council who attend are sure of an entertaining address.

HOLY TRINITY BRANCH.

A branch of the St. Joseph's Asylum Society will be established in Holy Trinity parish on Sunday, October 24. It is expected that every man in the parish will become affiliated with the society.

Mr. Lee is a very successful contractor and railroad builder and a life-long friend of Mr. McClusky. Those who have met him wish that he would make Louisville his home.

IRISH BISHOP'S JUBILEE.

The priests and people of the Diocese of Ossory are preparing to assist their Bishop, the Right Rev. Dr. Brownrigg in fittingly celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his consecration on December 14 next. During his episcopate he completed the erection of St. Mary's magnificent Cathedral at a cost of $100,000 and also carried out great improvements in St. Kieran's College, one of the foremost diocesan institutions in Ireland.

KILKELLY'S BAND.

William J. Kilkelly, a very popular young Hibernian, has begun to enter the musical field as an entertainer. Like Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore, he has the talent and also starts in a small way. He proposes to furnish piano and drum music for dances and entertainments and wants his friends to call or to address him at 1633 Prentice street. His advertisement appears in another column.

READY FOR CONSECRATION.

The faithful of the diocese of Syracuse, N. Y., are preparing for the solemn consecration of the parent church of the diocese, the Immaculate Conception Cathedral. The event will take place within the next few weeks. The ceremonies will be very imposing, and Bishops and priests from neighboring dioceses will assist at the solemn ceremonies.

MCLOSKEY-HOFFMAN.

Miss Mary Josephine McCloskey and J. Edward Hoffman will be united in marriage at St. Paul's church at Lexington a week from next Thursday. The Rev. Father de Waegonaere will officiate. HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General News Notes.

Milwaukee Hibernians plan to initiate a large class early in December.

Division 1 has two candidates on the Democratic ticket and Division 4 has three.

Martin Cusick, of Division 1, was a great entertainer for the ladies at Division 3's celebration.

Denny Coleman set a high mark in arranging Division 3's banquet. It will hardly ever be surpassed.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Denver finds a better attendance when meetings are held at homes of members.

Three divisions and one branch of the Ladies' Auxiliary at Pawtucket, R. I., have decided to erect their own hall.

County President Welsh will soon call a meeting of the County Board, when the quarterly reports will be received.

The Milwaukee division of the Ladies' Auxiliary will hold social and literary meetings once a month during the fall and winter.

At the meeting of Division 3 Thursday night all present expressed themselves as more than pleased over the success of the anniversary celebration.

The Hibernians of Torrington, Conn., have inaugurated a movement to secure the religious rights of patients that may be sent to public institutions for treatment.

Steve McElliott has proven such an interesting reader of Irish history that Division 4 members now request him to read more than the allotted amount at each meeting.

Division 1 will meet next Tuesday night, and the officers request all members to be present. Plans for the winter meetings will be discussed and a programme outlined.

Miss Rose Sweeney makes a hit as a public speaker. She has solved a problem that many orators have found an obstacle. If she has anything to say she says it. Then she quits.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will hold an important meeting next Wednesday night. Committees will be named to arrange for the open meeting and reception that will take place next month.

Matters of much interest will be discussed by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary next Wednesday night, and Miss Rose Sweeney, the President, therefore urges all the members to attend.

Division 4 continues in the lead in Kentucky. President Hennessy is planning to still further fortify his position and declares that it will be a hard struggle to displace the men from Limerick.

John Mulloy, who made one of the hits of the evening at Division 3's celebration, is a star dancer of Irish jig, hornpipes and reels. He won prizes at contests in Ireland and in London before coming to America.

From over the river comes word that in both Jeffersonville and New Albany the divisions are standing firm. Both are planning campaigns to increase their membership. They have a fertile field to work in and should succeed.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Denver celebrated the anniversary of the birth of Lord Edward Fitzgerald with a euchre last night. Lord Edward was born October 15, 1763, and met a martyr's death for leading the Irish rebellion in 1798.

This is the season when all can do something to increase the membership of the order. Every Hibernian should have an application and endeavor to secure at least one candidate before the new year. There are hundreds of good men waiting to be asked to join the Ancient Order.

The Ladies' Auxiliary is making a splendid showing in Minnesota. At a recent meeting of the Board of Auditors in St. Paul it was shown that there was a balance of $10,129.12 in the beneficiary fund and $40,000 invested in United States bonds. There are 4,781 policies extant, of which 742 call for $1,000 and 4,039 for $500 each.

BACK TO OLD LOVE.

C. D. Elkins, after an absence of three years, has associated himself once more with the Montenegro-Riehm Music Company. Mr. Elkins is well and favorably remembered by many of his old friends and patrons of the firm.

SUPREME PRESIDENT EN TOUR.

D. E. Kelley, of Memphis, Supreme President of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, is making a tour of the States of the Middle West in the interest of the order. His friends hope he will include Louisville in his itinerary.

BELIEVED IN EDUCATION.

The late Dr. R. D. Spalding, of Atlanta, Ga., bequeathed $20,000 for the establishment of a parish school in the Sacred Heart parish of that city. Dr. Spalding was a cousin of Archbishop John Lancaster Spalding.

UNITE IN WORTHY CAUSE.

Non-Catholics of all creeds are uniting with the Catholics of Syracuse, N. Y., in an effort to raise an additional $75,000 for the benefit of the House of Providence, an asylum for boys. It is proposed to hold a "Union Fair" and many ministers of dissenting faiths are uniting with the Catholic brethren for the success of the enterprise. The fair will be held November 9 to 20 inclusive.

WHERE CHURCH FLOURISHES.

Church property in the diocese of Peoria is valued at $23,000,000 and is scattered over twenty-eight counties in Illinois.

POPULARITY CONTEST.

Chickasaw Council of Memphis has a popularity contest on for young ladies. A handsome gold bracelet is the prize and each member is hustling for his fair share.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

A council is to be organized at North River, Newfoundland.

Seattle Council boasts a family of eight brothers on its rolls, and their family name is Casey.

The council at Auburn, N. Y., conferred the first degree on a large class last Thursday night.

San Francisco Council is to build its own home. It is expected that the site alone will cost $100,000.

Buffalo Knights are planning to build a magnificent home, but the work will not be pushed with undue haste.

Denver Knights attended the Elks' fair in a body last night and showed proper appreciation for favors received from the Elks.

The Tennessee State Council will have two priests delivering missions to non-Catholics in the field this fall. The expenses will be largely defrayed by the Knights.

When the Knights make their pilgrimage to Rome and Genoa next year they will also visit Oberammergau, where a special production of the Passion Play will be produced.

This has been a great week for exemplifications of the fourth degree. On Monday a large class was put through at New Haven, Conn., and on Tuesday large classes were put through at Indianapolis and Salt Lake City.

FASHION FOIBLES.

Shawls may be worn this winter. Long quilts are much worn to trim walking hats.

The all black hat still retains much of its popularity.

Zibeline, serge and the chevrets are popular for coats.

Toques and turbans are to be worn by young and old this fall.

Nothing masculine is now fashionable in the feminine outfit.

Street suits are to continue much as they have been in general design.

There is an ever increasing tendency toward the skirt that is draped.

There has been a revival of shirt blouses which the short waisted gown put in the background.

There is an increased popularity of the skirt with the deep hip yoke, joined to a plaited flounce.

Trim, high stocks are taking the place of Dutch and Eton collars, in popular favor for the autumn.

The tucked sleeve is smaller than the one which is plain, and either may be made in the full or shorter length.

For dressing sacks flannels, and albatross are appropriate as well as cotton crepe and other wash materials.

There is no trimming on a waist which gives it so much individuality as a touch of hand embroidery work or braiding.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS.

During the last five years New York City has spent more money on both public and private improvements than any two other cities in the world.

The Right Rev. Daniel McKenna was consecrated Bishop of Clogher last Sunday.

The lacemaking classes of the convent schools in County Mayo earned $4,500 during the past year.

The entire County Mayo is mourning the death of Dr. Martin Cleary, a deservedly popular physician of Ballycroy.

Michael Kenny, aged 101 years and a native of Ballinacree, County Longford, walks four miles to attend mass every Sunday.

Miss Mary Quinn, of the County Tyrone, has been elected matron of the County Limerick Infirmary. She defeated ten opposing candidates.

The splendid mansion of McCarthy Morogh, County Cork, was totally destroyed by the explosion of a lamp. None was at home when the fire occurred.

J. S. Stewart, who represented the Ballyscullion division of the Ballymena district, County Antrim, in the Guardians and District Council, died rather suddenly.

The Sub-Sheriff of the County Clare with a police party recently effected a large seizure of cattle for rent due on the Foster Fitzgerald estate at Kinlea.

A large number of tenants on the estate of Lord Seaton, near Cushion, Queens county, have purchased their holdings. A dispute has arisen over their game rights.

Norah Donovan died recently in Midleton workhouse, County Cork, at the age of 103 years. She had been an inmate of the institution for sixty-two years.

The Tyrone and Fermanagh asylum for the insane is overcrowded, and a new wing is to be built at a cost of $25,000 to accommodate 110 patients.

Several Thurles house owners have obtained decrees for rent against their tenants, but the local bailiffs decline to serve them for fear of increasing public odium.

Sister Mary Magdalen Hallinan died at Presentation Convent, County Cork. She spent fifty years in the religious life, and was a member of an old Charleville family.

John McAuliffe, a native of County Cork, fell from the clock tower in the military barracks at Cahir, County Tipperary, and sustained injuries which caused his death.

Attorney George Commerford Greene has been appointed Judge of the County Court for Louth and Armagh. He stands well in both counties, but his appointment was not expected.

The Right Rev. Dr. Conaty, Bishop of Los Angeles, Cal., recently paid a visit to his old home in the County Kilkenny. He will make an extended tour of Ireland before returning to the United States.

Very Rev. Dr. Conington, of Collooney, County Sligo, has been transferred to the parish of Ballymote. Before his departure he was presented with a farewell address and a handsome chalice.

The death has been announced of Michael J. Redmond, of Millmount, a Justice of the Peace of County Wexford. He was seventy-four years old and had long been recognized as a benefactor of religious institutions.

Limerick Rural District Council has adopted a resolution favoring a bride across the Shannon at Castleconnel. The estimated cost is $60,000. It has been suggested that the Counties Clare and Limerick each pay half the bill.

ON THE ARCHBISHOP.

Old friends of Archbishop Ryan, when they gathered to informally felicitate him upon his twenty-fifth anniversary as Archbishop of Philadelphia, recalled some good stories about him.

One was illustrative of the Archbishop's fondness for children. He was taking his daily walk one afternoon, when he saw a little boy trying vainly to reach a doorknob.

The Archbishop told the boy to be of good cheer, and himself reached for the bell pull and sent a clanging summons through the house.

When he turned, the little fellow, his eyes wide open with anxiety for his new-found friends, exclaimed:

"Run like the devil, Mister, I was playing a trick."

The Archbishop was left on the doorstep to explain matters.

JESUIT SCIENTIST.

Rev. Jerome Ricard, S. J., of the meteorological observatory at Santa Clara College, California, has been elected an honorary member of the Astronomical Society of Mexico. This honor, which came as a complete surprise, is well deserved by Father Ricard, whose excellent work has been recognized in distant parts.

PROGRESSIVE GERMANY.

The German Year Book for 1909, just issued, gives the empire a population of 63,886,000. This is an increase of 3,250,000 in three and a half years. Since 1871 the count has increased by 23,000,000. Births are increasing over deaths and emigration is decreasing.

ROOSEVELT AT MISSION.

Former President Theodore Roosevelt visited the Catholic mission at Uariobi, British East Africa, on his hunting trip. The present Superior of the mission is the Rev. Father Peter Goetz, of the Congregation of the Holy Ghost, and formerly of Detroit, Mich.

LARGEST WHEEL.

The world's largest cast steel wheel recently was turned out at a Pittsburg foundry. It was thirteen and a quarter feet in diameter and weighed 8,700 pounds.

LARGEST RESERVOIR.

Denver has the largest city water reservoir capacity in the country, 110,000,000,000 gallons, and New York next, 108,000,000,000 gallons capacity.

MACKIN MEMBERS

Will Discuss Proposition to Erect a Modern Gymnasium.

Mackin Council held a well attended meeting Monday night despite the inclement weather. President Louis J. Kieffer presided, and the meeting was full of interest to all the members. It was announced that owing to unforeseen events the address to be delivered by Judge O'Doherty on October 25 had been postponed until a later date. At present Mackin Council has no member on the sick list.

President Kieffer announced that when Judge O'Doherty did deliver his address it would be at an open meeting of the council and that members would be asked to invite their friends to the literary treat. Instead of the lecture on the evening of October 25 that night has been set apart for a full and free discussion of a proposition to build a large and modern equipped gymnasium in the rear of the present structure. Refreshments and cigars will be served and it is proposed to make the meeting the largest since the last election of officers.

EPISCOPAL COLORS.

Liturgical Authority Has Written On Very Interesting Topic.

The Rev. Father John A. Nainfa, S. J., professor of church history and liturgy in St. Mary's Seminary at Baltimore, has written a new work on "Costumes of Prelates." In it he gives this interesting bit of information:

"It is generally believed that the 'episcopal color' is purple; accordingly when one or several Bishops are to attend some celebration, the persons who have charge of the decorations secure as much 'purple' as possible to drape the seats and kneelers of the Bishop, and to hang the church or hall; they adorn with a purple ribbon the menu carus, the engrossed addresses, etc. This is a mistake. Purple is the color of the Bishop's clothes only, and of the livery garments of his ecclesiastical household. The true 'episcopal color'—the one to be used for decoration purposes—is not purple, but green. The drapery of the Bishop's throne—that of his prie-dieu, the canopy over his coat of arms and other places of decoration, should be green. The throne and the prie-dieu should be draped in purple only on penitential days and on occasions of mourning. The same rule applies, of course, to Archbishops and Patriarchs; but for a Cardinal scarlet should be used instead of green. When the Ordinary officiates his throne should be draped in the 'color of the day.'"

PRESIDENT CAMPBELL ILL.

It is with great regret that Vincentians have learned of the serious illness of James Campbell, for years President of the St. Vincent de Paul Society's Particular Council. Alert, energetic, and indefatigable, Mr. Campbell has accomplished an untold amount of good in Louisville. Although President of the Vincentians he never appeared as a commander—he was always a leader and his example was enough to lead thousands of men to deeds of charity. His home on West Jefferson street is being visited hourly by his friends, young and old. At last accounts Mr. Campbell was much improved. There are few Catholic families in Louisville that do not know James Campbell, and all are praying that he will live longer to his wife, his daughters and to the poor and distressed of Louisville.

BACK TO GOLDEN GATE.

Frank Moir, of Los Angeles, who came to Louisville a month ago to visit his brother, Dr. Charles Moir, returned to his home Tuesday. From Louisville Mr. Moir and Dr. Moir went to St. Mary's, Ontario, Canada, to visit a third brother at their old home. After an enjoyable sojourn they returned to Louisville and for two weeks Frank Moir spent his time in seeing all that was worth seeing in Louisville and its vicinity. He made a very favorable impression among all who met him.

REISZ-PAUL.

Miss Cecilia Reisz, of New Albany, and John F. Paul, of Jeffersonville, will be united in marriage at St. Mary's church, New Albany, at 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning. After a short trip through the North Mr. and Mrs. Paul will begin their honeymoon in Jeffersonville. The bride about-to-be is a daughter of Mrs. M. Josephine Reisz, of 606 State street, New Albany, and the fortunate young man holds a responsible position with the American Car and Foundry Company in Jeffersonville.

DUODECIM CLUB DANCE.

The Duodecim Club, an organization of well known young ladies, have announced that their initial dance will be given at Trinity Hall on the evening of Friday, November 12. The club members are Misses Rosie S. Rapp, Eva J. Walter, Anna T. Herley, Ella V. Sullivan, Nella Mae Cutler, Katherine Densinger, Mary C. Ridge, Helen L. Resch, Anna May Mayer, Edna M. Sargeant, Carrie D. Herrmann and Mildred C. Schweiters.

Struck the Right Medicine. 10
Shipman, Ill., August 17, 1908.
Ten years ago my daughter was taken with nervousness so bad that she could not walk without falling down and could hardly eat herself at the table, was at times very nervous and could not sleep at nights. We doctored for about 2 years, then we used Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic and in a few days she was cured and her appetite improved. We are all well and happy.

Grateful.
Anthony, B. J., January 17th, 1908.
I have used a bottle of the wonderful remedy, Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic and I am now enjoying the very best of health. I suffered from nervousness, dizziness and kindred ailments and had a severe attack of nervousness which left me in a weakened and miserable condition. I gratefully recommend the remedy to all sufferers and they can refer to me, I will answer all letters.
FREE A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a Sample bottle to any address. Four pennies also get the medicine free.

WORK OF CATHOLIC SOLDIERS.
The Philippine Catholic, a weekly published in Manila, gives this intelligence: "Last Sunday acting Chaplain Volz and the Catholics who attend mass at the Army Y. M. C. A. building of Ft. McKinley were pleasantly surprised to find that a new altar had been installed. It was the work of Post Carpenter John Foley, aided by a number of the enlisted men. Though simple in design, it presents a neat, artistic appearance in white and gold, and is especially attractive for its ornamental carving, the lamb reposing on a book as a center piece beneath the table of the altar being conspicuous and noteworthy. This decorative part was designed and carved by a member of the Twenty-ninth Infantry, which recently left for the States. Mr. Foley devoted his own leisure to this deserving work, apart from his many and exacting duties in the Commissary department." The acting Chaplain mentioned is the Very Rev. Father J. Raymond Volz, formerly Prior of St. Louis Bertrand's Convent, this city.

INCREASING MEMBERSHIP.
The Catholic Knights of America are constantly adding to their number. From the official journal it is learned that in Arkansas during the past three years both the number of branches and membership have been doubled. The Illinois State Council reports a gain of 132 members. A statement of Supreme Secretary Anthony Maize shows that forty-seven certificates were issued during September. When the Secretaries act with promptness the Catholic Knights now pay claims within from five to seven days.

PARADE IN RAIN.

Many Marchers Paid Little Attention to Wet Weather.

Despite the drenching rain that made the streets of Covington canals of mud last Sunday afternoon, hundreds of marchers from Cincinnati, Newport and Covington held a street procession in honor of the Holy Name of Jesus. It had been planned to have the concluding exercises in the open, but the inclemency of the weather made that impossible.

On reaching St. Patrick's church the marchers entered and heard appropriate addresses from the Right Rev. Bishop Maes and Gen. Michael Ryan, of Cincinnati. Both speakers congratulated the members of the Holy Name Society on its phenomenal growth within two years. Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament and a "Te Deum" followed.

There is a federation of the Holy Name Society in Cincinnati, Covington and Newport, and each year a different church in one of the three cities is to be visited. The officers of the federation are W. Frank Armstrong, President; Gen. Michael Ryan, Vice President; W. G. Chamberlain, Secretary; Patrick Corrigan, Treasurer. The Covington Reception Committee was composed of the following: Rev. Father James Cusack, M. J. McDermott, John L. King, T. F. Macke, J. P. Higgins, J. E. Glenn, W. G. Chamberlain, J. P. Powers and J. H. Collins.

FEAR OF HELL

Has Deterred Men From Wrongdoing Declares Archbishop.

Ancient the new religion proposed by Dr. Eliot, Archbishop Ryan declares that the fear of hell has deterred men from wrongdoing. He says:

"The fear of hell has deterred men from wrongdoing in the past and is deterring them from wrongdoing today. Look at the great motives of human action. Behold the young man contending with fearful temptation, wrestling with some 'mid-day demon.' The pleasure promised is certain and alluring. Religion whispers in his ear: 'Fear God, listen to your conscience; you know that to yield is wrong. Remember the punishment which God has threatened. Remember the heaven you renounce if you yield, and the hell whose punishment you deserve.' Now all this warning is based on doctrine. Only whisper in his ear: 'There is no hell. God is indulgent, or takes no cognizance of human action.' Strike down the great truth and you strike down the great motive. But some one may say that it is utterly impossible that we should go back to the paganism from which Christianity has liberated us. Yet one must remember that human nature is always the same and that mere culture will not save us. Man is a religious being. If he worship not God he will worship himself. Deny the doctrines of faith and you try to kill Christianity and establish some form of paganism."

VENERABLE LADY MOURNED.

The death of Mrs. Richard Langan, which occurred at the family residence, 612 West St. Catherine street, Wednesday evening, is regretted by a large circle of friends. The deceased was born in Ireland seventy years ago, but had spent more than half a century in Louisville, and was for more than forty years a devout member of St. Louis Bertrand's parish. She is survived by four children, Miss Mollie Collins, the popular modiste; Richard and James Langan and Mrs. Hugh Finegan. The funeral will take place from St. Louis Bertrand's church this morning. Her bereaved children have the sympathy of many friends in their great sorrow.

FRANCISCAN JUBILEE.

Last Sunday was the fiftieth anniversary of the Church of St. Francis in Cincinnati, and the celebration continued from early morning until after dark. The brown Franciscans, who preside over the destinies of that handsome church, are great favorites in Cincinnati. Many residences and business houses in the vicinity of the church were decorated in honor of the celebration. The Most Rev. Archbishop Moeller celebrated Pontifical high mass at 10 o'clock. On Monday a solemn mass of requiem was celebrated for the repose of the souls of deceased priests and people of the parish.

KERR-BURKE.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season at St. Louis Bertrand's church will be that which unites Miss Nellye Commillia Kerr and William Joseph Burke. The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 4 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. After the nuptial rite the bridal party will hold a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kerr, from 8 o'clock until 1 o'clock. Both the young people have the best wishes of many friends for a successful journey through life.

BOWLERS ENTERTAINED.

The O'Neal & O'Neal Bowling Club was given a Dutch supper in New Albany by their manager, Walter M. Klarer, on Thursday night of last week. After a very enjoyable evening the club members visited Capt. Thomas Cannon, the night Chief of Police, and thanked him for the freedom of the city.

MASONIC THEATER.

Ezra Kendall will appear in his old and justly celebrated role of "The Vinegar Buyer" at Masonic Theater during the last half of next week. Mr. Kendall has been making Louisville audiences laugh for a quarter of a century, and every time he comes he plays a crowded house.
